

Repealling prohibitive laws regarding media companies' owning of both TV stations and newspapers in one geographic area would be most detrimental to media diversity - an issue that is largely in question currently as well. To eliminate such laws is to push for a more diminutive scope of media - which is neither democratic nor beneficial to America's citizens. I urge the FCC to maintain these laws, as well as enforce them more strictly, for the overall good of the country. Thank you.